Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the questions whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

Claim 28 objected to under PCT Rule 66.2(a)(v) as lacking clarity under PCT Article 6 because claim 28 is indefinite for the following reason(s): Claim 28 recites "said antigen" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the said claim.

V. 2. Citations and Explanations:

Claims 1-27, 29-35, 37, 39-46, 49-55, 60-64 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by WO 02/36141 A2.

WO 02/36141 A2 teaches administering a combination of from two to five agents from the following: those that mobilize dendritic cells, stimulate maturation of dendritic cells, enhance an immune response of an effector T cell, or agents that cause death or growth inhibition of infectious agents (especially abstract). WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that induction of cell-mediated immune responses requires the interaction of at least three different types of cells: dendritic cells (DC), CD4+ Th cells and CD8+ effector T cells, or CTL (especially page 1 at paragraph 3). WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that an agent or more than one agent is administered to an individual human including an infant afflicted with or at risk for a condition characterized by the presence of a pathogenic or opportunistic organism(s), said agent being a DC mobilization factor such as human or murine Flt3L or biologically active fragments thereof and/or GM-CSF, a chemoattractant(s) to attract the mobilized DC such as MIP-1a and/or MIP-3a, along with one or more antigens, said antigens may be HIV antigens, other viral antigens, bacteria, yeast, fungi and protozoa, or viruses that cause cancer or demyelinating autoimmune diseases. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that the various agents may be administered locally in or near a site of infection or systemically. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that the agents may be administered to humans in a variety of administration forms and dosages or by using vectors or naked DNA in gene therapy techniques. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches optionally administering a second anti-microbial or antiviral therapy. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches administering a second therapeutic regimen within 1 to 25 days after the first. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that those of ordinary skill in the art are able to optimize the order and/or timing of the steps, as well as the dosages and routes of administration by routine experimentation (especially page 2 at the first two paragraphs, page 10 at paragraph 2, page 11 at paragraphs 1 and 3, page 18 at paragraphs 2 and 3, pages 20-23, claims, Figure 1, page 5 at paragraph 1, pages 6-page 9 at paragraph 2).

Claims 7, 8 and 60 are included in this rejection because the art method appears to be the same or similar absent a showing of unobvious differences, i.e., with respect to the degree of augmentation of the T cell response recited in the said claims. Claim 18 is included in this rejection because injection into the same injection site meets the claim limitation of "within no more than 20 cm apart".

Claim 27 and 37 are included in this rejection because the antigen is the same antigen present in the infection or the tumor. Claim 21 is included because the art method inherently prevents viral transmission in an infant that is breastfeeding. Claim 39 is included in this rejection because the art method appears to be the same or similar to the claimed method since the method improves immune response, less vaccine would be required.

Claims 1-64 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over WO 02/36141 A2 in view of US 6,433,147 B1 and US 5,846,827 A.

WO 02/36141 A2 teaches administering a combination of from two to five agents from the following: those that mobilize dendritic cells, stimulate maturation of dendritic cells, enhance an immune response of an effector T cell, or agents that cause death or growth inhibition of infectious agents (especially abstract). an infant afflicted with or at risk for a condition characterized by the presence of a pathogenic or opportunistic organism(s), said agent being a DC mobilization factor such as human or murine Flt3L or biologically active fragments thereof and/or GM-CSF, a chemoattractant(s) to attract the mobilized DC such as MIP-1a and/or MIP-3a, along with one or more antigens, said antigens may be HIV antigens, other viral antigens, bacteria, yeast, fingi and protozoa, or viruses that cause cancer or demyelinating autoimmune diseases. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that the various agents may be administered locally in or near a site of infection or systemically. WO 02/36141 A2 teaches that the agents may be administered to humans in a variety of administration forms and dosages or by using vectors or naked DNA in gene therapy techniques. WO 02/36141 A2 does not teach wherein viral vector is adenovirus or a poxvirus or fowl poxvirus, nor wherein at least 0.2 ug of vector is provided, nor wherein the antigen is an immunogenic peptide from HIV pol, nor wherein the cancer is melanoma, nor wherein the antigen is from MAGE-3.

US 6,433,147 B1 discloses using viral vectors comprising promoters such as adenovirus, fowl pox viruses or pox viruses in general for expression of polypeptides, in mammalian host cells, or alternately, use of naked DNA or RNA encoding a polypeptide in the dosage of from about 0.05 ug/kg body weight(especially columns 32-34, Example 28).

US 5,846,827 A discloses immunogenic peptides from HIV pol and MAGE-3 expressed on melanoma cancer cells

It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used a viral vector that is adenovirus or a poxvirus or fowl poxvirus as disclosed in US 6,433,147 B1 as the vector taught in the method of WO 02/36141 A2.

One of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have been motivated to do this in because WO 02/36141 A2 teaches using a vector for nucleic acid administration in the method and US 6,433,147 B1 discloses suitable vectors for expression of polypeptides in mammalian cells.

Claims 48 and 59 are included in this rejection because it would have been obvious to use at least the same amount of vector comprising DNA as the amount disclosed by US 6,433,147 B1 for naked DNA administration because the vector comprising DNA has less DNA per dosage weight than does naked DNA.

It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used an immunogen from HIV pol antigen disclosed by US 5,846,827 A to treat viral infection such as HIV taught by WO 02/36141 A2, or the MAGE-3 immunogenic peptide to treat melanoma disclosed by US 5,846,827 using the method taught by WO 02/36141 A2, but rather to treat cancer that is non-virally induced.

One of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have been motivated to do this in order to enhance an immune response in HIV infection or cancer, because WO 02/36141 A2 teaches a method for enhancing immune response in cancer or viral infection comprising administering immunogenic peptides, and US 5,846,827 A discloses immunogenic peptides from HIV pol and MAGE-3 expressed on melanoma cancer cells.

Claims 1-64 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus meet industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.

NOTESTOFORM PCT/ISA/220

These Notes are intended to give the basic instructions concerning the filing of amendments under Article 19. The Notes are based on the requirements of the Patent Cooperation Treaty, the Regulations and the Administrative Instructions under that Treaty. In case of discrepancy between these Notes and those requirements, the latter are applicable. For more detailed information, see also the PCT Applicant's Guide, a publication of WIPO.

In these Notes, "Article," "Rule" and "Section" refer to the provisions of the PCT, the PCT Regulations and the PCT Administrative Instructions, respectively.

INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING AMENDMENTS UNDER ARTICLE 19

The applicant has, after having received the international search report, one opportunity to amend the claims of the international application. It should however be emphasized that, since all parts of the international application (claims, description and drawings) may be amended during the international preliminary examination procedure, there is usually no need to file amendments of the claims under Article 19 except where, e.g. the applicant wants the latter to be published for the purposes of provisional protection or has another reason for amending the claims before international publication. Furthermore, it should be emphasized that provisional protection is available in some States only.

What parts of the international application may be amended?

Under Article 19, only the claims may be amended

During the international phase, the claims may also be amended (or further amended) under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority. The description and drawings may only be amended under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority

Upon entry into the national phase, all parts of the international application may be amended under Article 28 or, where applicable, Article 41.

When? Within 2 months from the date of transmittal of the international search report or 16 months from the priority date, whichever time limit expires later. It should be noted, however, that the amendments will be considered as having been received on time if they are received by the International Bureau after the expiration of the applicable time limit but before the completion of the technical preparations for international publication (Rule 46.1).

Where not to Ele the amendments?

The amendments may only be filed with the International Bureau and not with the receiving Office or the International Searching Authority (Rule 46.2).

Where a demand for international preliminary examination has been/is filed, see below.

How? Either by cancelling one or more entire claims by adding one or more new claims or by amending the text of one or more of the claims as filed

A replacement sheet must be submitted for each sheet of the claims which, on account of an amendment or amendments, differs from the sheet originally filed.

All the claims appearing on a replacement sheet must be numbered in Arabic numerals. Where a claim is cancelled, no renumbering of the other claims is required. In all cases where claims are renumbered, they must be renumbered consecutively (Administrative Instructions, Section 205(b)).

The amendments must be made in the language in which the international application is to be published.

What documents must/may accompany the amendments?

Letter (Section 205(b)):

The amendments must be submitted with a letter.

The letter will not be published with the international application and the amended claims. It should not be confused with the "Statement under Article 19(1)" (see below, under "Statement under Article 19(1)").

The letter must be in English or French, at the choice of the applicant. However, if the language of the international application is English, the letter must be in English; if the language of the international application is French, the letter must be in French.

The letter must indicate the differences between the claims as filed and the claims as amended. It must, in particular, indicate, in connection with each claim appearing in the international application (it being understood that identical indications concerning several claims may be grouped), whether

- (i) the claim is unchanged:
- (ii) the claim is cancelled
- (iii) the claim is new:
- (iv) the claim replaces one or more claims as filed;
- (v) the claim is the result of the division of a claim as filed.

The following examples illustrate the manner in which amendments must be explained in the accompanying letter:

- [Where originally there were 48 claims and after amendment of some claims there are 51]: "Claims I to 29, 31, 32, 34, 35, 37 to 48 replaced by amended claims bearing the same numbers, claims 30, 33 and 36 unchanged; new claims 49 to 51 added."
- [Where originally there were 15 claims and after amendment of all claims there are 11]: "Claims I to 15 replaced by amended claims I to 11"
- [Where originally there were 14 claims and the amendments consist in cancelling some claims and in "Claims I to 6 and 14 unchanged; claims 7 to 13 cancelled; new claims 15, 16 and 17 added." or "Claims 7 to 13 cancelled; new claims 15, 16 and 17 addied; all other claims unchanged."
- "Claims 1-10 unchanged; claims 11 to 13, 18 and 19 cancelled; claims 14, 15 and 16 replaced by amended [Where various kinds of amendments are made]: claim 14; claim 17 subdivided into amended claims 15, 16 and 17; new claims 20 and 21 added."

"Statement under Article 19(1)" (Rule 46.4)

The amendments may be accompanied by a statement explaining the amendments and indicating any impact that such amendments might have on the description and the drawings (which cannot be amended under Article 19(1)).

The statement will be published with the international application and the amended claims.

It must be in the language in which the international application is to be published.

It must be brief, not exceeding 500 words if in English or if translated into English.

It should not be confused with and does not replace the letter indicating the differences between the claims as filed and as amended. It must be filed on a separate sheet and must be identified as such by a heading, preferably by using the words "Statement under Article 19(1)."

It may not contain any disparaging comments on the international search report or the relevance of citations contained in that report. Reference to citations, relevant to a given claim, contained in the international search report may be made only in connection with an amendment of that claim

Consequence if a demand for international preliminary examination has already been filed

If, at the time of filing any amendments and any accompanying statement, under Article 19, a demand for international preliminary examination has already been submutted; the applicant must preferably, at the time of filing the amendments (and any statement) with the International Bureau, also file with the International Preliminary Examining Authority a copy of such amendments (and of any statement) and, where required, a translation of such amendments for the procedure before that Authority (see Rules 55.3(a) and 62.2, first sentence). For further information, see the Notes to the demand form (PCT/IPEA/401).

Consequence with regard to translation of the international application for entry into the national phase

The applicant's attention is drawn to the fact that, upon entry into the national phase, a translation of the claims as amended under Article 19 may have to be furnished to the designated/elected Offices, instead of, or in addition to, the translation of the claims as filed.

For further details on the requirements of each designated elected Office, see the PCT Applicant's Guide, Volume II.
